About INSO

Founded in 2011, the International NGO Safety Organisation (INSO) is a British charity that supports the safety of aid workers by establishing safety coordination platforms in insecure contexts. INSO provides registered NGOs with a range of free services including real-time incident tracking, analytical reports, safety related data and mapping, crisis management support, staff orientations and training.

INSO services help NGOs with their day-to-day risk management responsibilities and improve their overall situational awareness to support evidence-based humanitarian access decisions.

The Organisation has grown from innovative start-up to become a globally recognised charity and a valuable component of the humanitarian safety coordination system.

Today the Organisation provides daily support to more than 850 NGOs in twelve of the world's most insecure countries and has earned a strong reputation for performance, principles & professionalism.

INSO South Sudan Country Office

INSO launched operations in South Sudan in early 2018. INSO South Sudan aims to provide free services to more than 100 local and international NGOs in the country to enhance the delivery of aid and preserve the safety of their staff. Specifically, the programme shall provide the NGO community with tailored safety support through three main services: Capacity Building (provision of training to humanitarian workers); Information and Advice (provision of regular context reports, risk assessments and tailored advice on humanitarian access); and Response (support during crisis and critical incident management). INSO services are envisioned to cover the whole country, with field offices expected to open in 2018.
