What we do

Strategic Design – Customised to your needs

Our team carries out in-depth desk research, design research and field studies to accurately capture the context. Visual Tongue Uganda matches materials, media, and methods to the context of the user.

Co-creation- Making solutions together

Co-creation is a creative and cost-effective way to build a solution for our clients. Together with end-users, clients, and decision makers we go through a process of exercises, prototyping and testing until we arrive at a viable answer.

Graphic Design

We create tools that help you give a large amount and complex information in a manageable format to a group of people. We strive for clarity and function in all the materials we develop.

Illustration – Fostering learning through visuals

Some conversations are difficult to start and considered taboo. We illustrate pictorial tools that bring the audiences' imaginations to life while passing on messages to people with varying literacy levels

Product Testing

When you hire Visual Tongue to test your communication materials, we think strategically about your objectives to safeguard quality and ensure your key messages are not lost

Translation

Visual Tongue offers translation and proofreading services for most of the major languages in Uganda and East Africa

Training of Trainers

We can make sure your materials are used most effectively by training your staff how to engage their audiences and use participatory teaching methods

Story Telling - Helping You To Tell Your Story

Storytelling has proven itself as one of the most powerful ways to convey a message. Visual Tongue helps clients translate difficult concepts into stories that are easily understood and engaging.
