

MSF Switzerland
Hai Malakal
Juba Town
South Sudan

JOB VACANCY
HEALTH PROMOTER – JUBA
NUMBER OF VACANCIES: 01

Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF – Doctors Without Borders) is an international, independent, medical humanitarian organization that delivers emergency aid to people affected by armed conflicts, epidemics, natural disasters and exclusion from healthcare in more than 60 countries around the world. MSF offers assistance to people based on need, irrespective of race, religion, gender or political affiliation. Our actions are guided by medical ethics and the principles of neutrality and impartiality.

MSF South Sudan is currently seeking to employ a qualified candidate for the above position on a 6-month fixed term contract renewable, with a trial period of 3 months:

Main Purpose:

In close collaboration with the Project Medical Referent (PMR), implementing and supervising educational campaigns according to MSF values, standards and procedures in order to increase awareness of the targeted population and to promote prevention and treatment of diseases in the project area

Accountabilities:

- In close collaboration with the PMR, participate in the definition and update of the Health Promotion /Information, Education, Communication strategy and identify indicators in order to monitor HP activities, results, and achievements.
- Supporting the South Sudan Emergencies Response Unit (SSERU) Team in organizing and carrying out assessments and research on the impact of Health Promotion activities and identifying and reporting the constraints, difficulties or strength points of the Health Promotion strategy inside and outside the medical structures in order to reinforce the link between the communities and the project
- Providing support in selecting and developing quality pedagogical communication strategies towards the community. Planning information campaigns, including targets, objectives, methods and goals in order to increase awareness among the targeted population during health assessment and intervention in South Sudan.
- Informing, according to protocols, community members and identified risk groups (about health-related issues
- Organizing health awareness sessions for MSF's medical and non-medical staff
- Identifying key actors (local authorities, local NGOs, traditional healers, formal or informal authorities) in order to support the dissemination of health information to the target population and be the point of reference for the relation and networking with these subjects.

- Organizing, training, and supervising the HP team in terms of planning and organizing their work, supporting, evaluating and coaching of personnel, collecting reports of health workers and regularly visiting communities that are under his/her responsibility
- In close collaboration with the HR department, supervise the HR associated processes (recruitment, training/induction, evaluation, potential detection, development and communication) of the staff under his/her responsibility in order to ensure both the sizing and the amount of knowledge required.
- Ensuring cleanliness of IEC (information, education and communication) areas
- Collecting and reporting to the medical team any information linked to the health situation of the population and the patient
- Ability to move within South Sudan with the SSERU team
- Good stress management and capacity to keep activities during high workload as emergency respond for any outbreak,

Recruitment criteria:

Education: Essential diploma in social sciences or education/pedagogy / or social work

Experience: Minimum of 2 years' experience as health promoter in NGOs would be desirable

Languages: English and Arabic required.

- Knowledge: Computer literacy skills (Word, Excel, Internet) required.

How to apply:

Interested South Sudanese candidates should submit their application with motivation letter, CV, copies of certificates and national ID by email to msfch-juba-dhrco@geneva.msf.org by 5th September 2022, 5:00pm. Please clearly mark "HEALTH PROMOTER - Juba" in the subject title of your email.

Equally qualified women are strongly encouraged to apply.

Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Applications received will not be returned.

