

Terms of Reference

Program Name: Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival, (GAHRFF) Season II.

Requirements: Call for Film Submission

Timeframe: Two Weeks

Organizational Background:

Amalna is a nongovernment, not-for-profit national NGO founded and registered by RRC in 2016. Our Mission is to promote access to information, effective citizen participation, and accountable government and enable people to equitably enjoy their wellbeing. We are experienced in the use of media and communication to stimulate 'positive voices' to promote a culture of peace and reconciliation. Amalna contributes to humanitarian work in South Sudan by supporting and promoting inclusive dialogue, human rights, good governance, capacity building, livelihood through radio programming, mobile cinema, theatre, and other outreach activities. Amalna in partnership with "Movies that Matters" (MtM) is organizing Human Rights Film Festival entitled "Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival, (GAHRFF)".

Project Background

Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF) season two is organized in South Sudan with a purpose to address human right violation affecting children, PWD, Women, media and other. The Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival seeks to create a cross-cultural platform where citizens, government, CSOs and the wider public can engage in tackling issues relating to human rights, in particular rights and dignity of children, their sense of worth, belonging and spirit of common welfare among their communities.

Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF) will be held in Juba and Torit in the selected public place and in secondary and primary schools in November 2024. Additional activities such as training will run alongside the festival. The Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF) aims to promote debate, dialogue, capacity strengthening to address human rights violations in South Sudan. Our primary audience are the public specially children, youth, women and men, policy makers, film producers and journalists, and people with disabilities across South Sudan.

Therefore, we would like to invite national, regional and international producers with already existing but recent produced films to submit for review and selection. Humanitarian organizations, UN and human rights networks with such films can also submit. We will constitute a committee of film experts to view, analyze and evaluate all submitted films and recommend the relevant ones for screening during the Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival. The selected film producers whose films will be selected for screening will receive some awards and continue be mentioned in all platforms where Gatakhor HR film festival will be accessed online and in all reports as contributors; hamartian organizations will be mentioned too.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, consisting of a vertical line with a loop at the top and a horizontal line at the bottom.

AMALNA SOUTH SUDAN

Brief details

Project title	Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival, (GAHRFF) Season II.
Length of Screenings	5 days (Open night and close night in public places and others in schools).
Screening locations	Juba City Council, CES and Torit, Eastern Equatoria
Types of Films	Documentaries, fictions, animations, drama, comedies etc

DURATION AND TIME:

The entire period for submission of the films will be 2 weeks. The submission is expected to end by 22nd September 2024.

TERMS OF PAYMENT:

Amalna will not make any payment to the producer and will not be collecting any fees during the film festival. However, the producers of the selected films will be presented with awards and mentioned in all the platforms and documents of the project as contributors to the success of the film festival.

DESIRABLE FILMS:

This film festival requires high quality films that advances human rights and children rights particularly related to child marriage, GBV, child labor, climate change, general human rights violations, freedom of speech and information, inheritance among others. We are particularly looking for producers and activists that were followed on camera in their advocacy, awareness raising and capacity building of communities to fight for the rights of children, women and related human rights violations.

How to Submit

Interested producers(s) should send an Expression of Interest (EOI) to submit their films and will sign a consent letter that in a situation that their films were selected they consent the copy rights and screening of their films with organizers terms and conditions. The films should be sent through WeTransfer to info@amalna-ss.org by the deadline of September 22, 2024. The producers will be informed about the selection process in case they are selected or not. Due to the urgency of the matter the films will be reviewed on rolling bases.

Inquiries: Questions regarding this call can be send to the above email by 16th September 2024.

Terms of Reference

Program Name: Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF) Season II

Requirements: Call for Film Submissions

Timeframe: Two Weeks

Organizational Background:

Amalna is a non-governmental, not-for-profit national NGO founded and registered by RRC in 2016. Our mission is to promote access to information, effective citizen participation, and accountable government, enabling people to equitably enjoy their well-being. We are experienced in using media and communication to stimulate 'positive voices' that promote a culture of peace and reconciliation. Amalna contributes to humanitarian work in South Sudan by supporting and promoting inclusive dialogue, human rights, good governance, and capacity building through radio programming, mobile cinema, theatre, and other outreach activities. In partnership with "Movies that Matter" (MtM), Amalna is organizing the Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF).

Project Background:

The Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF) Season II is organized in South Sudan to address human rights violations affecting children, persons with disabilities (PWD), women, media, and others. The festival aims to create a cross-cultural platform where citizens, government, civil society organizations (CSOs), and the wider public can engage in tackling issues related to human rights, particularly focusing on the rights and dignity of children, their sense of worth, belonging, and spirit of common welfare within their communities.

The festival will be held in Juba and Torit at selected public venues and in secondary and primary schools in November 2024. Additional activities, such as training sessions, will run alongside the festival. The GAHRFF aims to promote debate, dialogue, and capacity building to address human rights violations in South Sudan. Our primary audience includes the general public, especially children, youth, women, men, policymakers, film producers, journalists, and people with disabilities across South Sudan.

We invite national, regional, and international producers of recently produced films to submit their work for review and selection. Humanitarian organizations, UN agencies, and human rights networks with relevant films are also encouraged to submit. A committee of film experts will review, analyse, and evaluate all submitted films and recommend those suitable for screening during the festival. Selected film producers will receive awards and be recognized on all platforms where the festival is promoted online and in reports. Humanitarian organizations involved will also be acknowledged.

Brief Details:

- Project Title: Gatakhor Human Rights Film Festival (GAHRFF) Season II
- Length of Screenings: 5 days (including an opening and closing night in public places and additional screenings in schools)
- Screening Locations: Juba City Council, CES, and Torit, Eastern Equatoria
- Types of Films: Documentaries, fiction, animation, drama, comedy, etc.

Duration and Time:

The submission period for films will last for 2 weeks, ending on September 22, 2024.

AMALNA SOUTH SUDAN

Terms of Payment:

Amalna will not provide payment to film producers nor collect any fees during the festival. However, producers of selected films will receive awards and be acknowledged on all platforms and documents associated with the festival.

Desirable Films:

We are seeking high-quality films that advance human rights and children's rights, particularly on issues such as child marriage, gender-based violence (GBV), child labor, climate change, general human rights violations, freedom of speech and information, and inheritance. We are especially interested in films that feature producers and activists involved in advocacy, awareness-raising, and capacity building to combat human rights violations affecting children and women.

How to Submit:

Interested producers should send an Expression of Interest (EOI) to submit their films and sign a consent letter agreeing to the terms and conditions of copyright and screening if their films are selected. Films should be sent via WeTransfer to info@amalna-ss.org by the deadline of September 22, 2024. Producers will be informed about the selection process. Due to the urgency, films will be reviewed on a rolling basis.

Inquiries:

Questions regarding this call can be sent to the above email by September 16, 2024.