SCBC SS - Juba, South Sudan

At the service of life in South Sudan & the Nuba Mountains

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT: NEWS EDITOR

ORGANISATION BACKGROUND

The Catholic Radio Network (CRN) is a media project constituted by community-based radio stations broadcasting in Frequency Modulation from Juba, Yei, Torit, Yambio, Rumbek, Tonj, Wau, Malakal and Gidel (Nuba Mountains).

All the stations share the same vision and mission, and are bound by common editorial and administrative policies.

All stations broadcast shared programs in English: news, civic education, and other educational programs. Due to the heterogeneous realities of South Sudan, each station is rooted in its locality and broadcasts locally produced culture-sensitive programs in the languages which are understood by the local people.

Across the network eighteen (18) different languages are used to reach out to the people.

For its outreach, CRN has a potential audience of over six million people in South Sudan and about 150.000 people in the Nuba Mountains.

Vision - A reconciled society, built on human and spiritual values, rooted in justice and honesty.

Mission - To reach-out to the people of South Sudan with a means of communication and information that builds peace through reconciliation and healing of trauma. To contribute to the spiritual welfare of the people through good information and civic education, which foster integral human development and respect for human rights, paying a special attention to the vulnerable groups (women, children, youth, the illiterates...).
