Job Advert for position of Torit Program Coordinator (1 Volunteer)

Women Relief Aid (WRA) is an independent women-led National NGO founded by group of young South Sudanese ladies to provide immediate supports to vulnerable women and children of war zone of South Sudan. WRA has been registered in 2021 with registration No. 4076 with the aim of providing immediate hope to women/children in the war zone of South Sudan through carrying out advocacy and training programs on SRHR, gender justice, women empowerment programs, women's education, strengthening the public understanding on women's sexual rights, and the relationship among sexuality, development and social justice. Consequently, the organization's focus is not kept limited either in terms of geography or sector. Whilst operating in different states of the country, WRA carry a range of interventions in the areas of women rights, education, health & hygiene, women empowerment, emergency response & preparedness, governance, free legal aid, human rights, etc.

The type of activities we undertake range from capacity building to service delivery, with focus remaining on the deprived and marginalized segments of the women and girls in the Society. Whereas in terms of operations what characterizes WRO's functioning are its efforts to (a) enlist involvement of the locals when initiating activities at the grass root level; and (b) mobilize women for bringing peace, tolerance, and development in society.
