I. Summary of the Request for applications:

Norwegian People's Aid (NPA) is a non-Governmental International Organization involved in humanitarian, relief and long-term development cooperation in South Sudan. It has been working in South Sudan since 1986 and currently runs three Programs Partnership with Civil Society, Rural development, and Emergency Response. NPA seeks partnership with National Non-Governmental Organisations (NNGOs) in the implementation of the NORAD funded Partnership for Building Resilience and Enhancing Resilience (BREL) of conflict affected households. The BREL project has been desired to improve the resilience of the target households to shocks (economic, natural and conflict related) and contribute to livelihoods through improved household's production and increased/diversified income sources. The overarching focus of the initiative is to implement series of interventions that promote household/community food security, build the resilience and livelihoods of conflict affected households in South Sudan. This will be done firstly by strengthening the capacity of smallholder farmers, groups and associations and local actors to provide an enabling environment for target households engage in improved and more sustainable climate agriculture hence contributing to improved household production and productivity. Implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the initiative will be done in collaboration with local government authorities, local civil society organizations, Nation Non-Governmental Organisation (NNGOs), pastoralists/agro-pastoralists, Community Based Organisations (CBOs), fisher-folks households, Community Animal Health Workers (CAHWs), farmer producer groups, farmer association groups/cooperatives, village and market committees and value chain actors. The BREL project will therefore seek to build on the previous work that NPA has conducted in the target locations through previous lines of funding provided through the NORAD Regional Funds and the Cooperative Agreement respectively.
