WTI is an international NGO that challenges poverty and inequality by expanding access to, and improving the quality of education and training, for communities affected by conflict, displacement, neglect, or discrimination. WTI has over 40 years' experience investing in the education, professional and leadership development of conflict-affected communities in the Eastern and Horn of Africa. Our vision is A world where everyone has the opportunity, through education and training, to make the most of their potential and contribute to the public good. WTI challenges poverty and inequality by expanding access to, and improving the quality of, education and training for communities affected by conflict, displacement, neglect, or discrimination in Eastern and Horn of Africa. WTI has been operational in South Sudan since 2006 but supported hundreds of South Sudanese refugees through undergraduate and postgraduate scholarships. Besides its scholarship program, WTI is lead education partner in the humanitarian and development sector. WTI implements teacher training, intensive English courses and infrastructure improvements in schools and communities.
