INTRODUCTION

With funding from the ZOETIS Foundation, VWB/VSF Canada is currently implementing the project “Building Livelihood Resilience for Income Security and Dignified Life” in Torit County-Eastern Equatoria State. The project’s main objective is to enhance the food security and livelihood resilience of livestock farmers in Torit County of Eastern Equatoria State.

In order to realize this, VWB/VSF Canada intends to procure 150 goats and 800 Chickens (local indigenous breeds) to be distributed to a target of 350HHs in Torit County. Indigenous breeds (100 does) and (50 bucks) are to be distributed to 50 vulnerable households to yield high-quality meat and milk. These breeds have the following characteristics; prolific nature enables it to survive in harsh climatic conditions and their long search for pasture and water can be suitable for cross-breeding purposes with the aim to build resistant breeds to harsh climatic conditions with the ability to survive compared to the imported hybrid of goat are opposed to the harsh climatic condition which affects their adaptability to the varying ecological zones of South Sudan where it is to be raised. With the above analysis, the implementation team in Torit has resolved to procure the local breed within Torit County or in Eastern Equatoria Region.
